G&S Fellowship Nite

Another fun and exciting social event organised by the IEM G&S for the young engineers and student members. The event was attended by more than 30 participants. Apart from the superb food servings of lamb chops, curry, deserts, etc., most participants had a fruitful interaction among one another. As usual, the event kicked off with our multimedia presentation of IEM G&S and this was followed by an ice-breaking session.

Thereafter, the committee members introduced our official G&S game, MAFIA, to the participants. They enjoyed the game immensely and ironically, beginners of the game won by 'killing off' most of the committee members. Kinda of hard to imagine!

The event ended after all the laughter died whereas social interaction amongst the members continued. G&S will continue their efforts to organise and bring in more members together through this social event and hopefully, you will join us the next time.
