1 DAY COURSE ON PUBLIC ADDRESS SYSTEM

The course was conducted by Mr. Foong Yeap and Mr. Ng Teck Lih. This was a joint effort with the Electrical Engineering Technical Division. The purpose of this course was to provide an overall understanding of the latest Building Safety Intelligence (BSI) trend in most of today's intelligent high-rise buildings. This course will also provided a comprehensive guide on designing a complete Public Address system to comply with the current BSI trend and introduced the renowned patent pending Early Evacuation System (EES).

IEM G&S'S STUDENT REPRESENTATIVE COUNCIL (SRC) MASTER PLAN REVIEW WORKSHOP 2006

IEM G&S's Student Representative Council (SRC) Master Plan Review Workshop 2006 which was held in Port Dickson was an intervarsity activity which gathered engineering student society's representatives from universities all around Malaysia. The main objective of this master plan review workshop was to engage student representatives of each engineering society in open discussion on future role of IEM Student Representative Council and interaction with students.

16-17 September 2006

ENGINEERING INTERACTIVE GATHERING (EIG)

The first ever gathering that focuses on the interactive session among the student engineers and graduate engineers has finally unfolded after months of preparation. It's a project held under the Engineering Society of University Malaya and a subproject of Institution of Engineers Malaysia, Membership Drive (IEMMD) co-organised with IEM G&S for the very first time. It played host to more than 120 young engineers and undergrads from various universities like KUKTEM, USM, UNITEN, UM, KUITTHO, TARC, INTI and UIA.

NETWORKING WITH VETERINARIAN ASSOCIATION OF MALAYSIA

The first ever activity attended by engineers. A dinner with other professions gave opportunities for G&S members to mingle around with the participants. We had a great dinner and got to know the working background of the other professionals rather than just knowing only the engineering field.
