Leadership in navigating across change is a result of constant focus on improving performance, identifying opportunities for growth and addressing issues that prevent the organisation's growth. Leading Change comes in many forms – processes, people, technology and even business structure. Change for processes, technology and structures can be straight forward aspects to tackle, but not the case of Change for people.

To be effective in leading and making Change happen, the role as a Frontline employee to execute the vision of change from the management is critical.
