Synopsis

To meet Malaysia's rising electricity demand, the Putrajaya Power Station (PJPS) also known as Stesen Janaelektrik Putrajaya was built in 1993 located in Serdang Selangor near Putrajaya. PJPS is a gas turbine power station comprising 5 units of gas turbines with a generating capacity of 625MW. It is one of the seven thermal power stations owned by Tenaga Nasional Berhad (TNB). The aim of this technical visit is to gain general knowledge and insight of the station operation.
