SYNOPSIS

Food safety is a major concern in the world, where the issues of food borne disease traceable back as early as mankind exist. Food business is a never ending story. Since its beginning, the industry has growth and with the introduction of new technologies and control, food safety issues remain the main focal point. A lot of actions has been taken in improving method, processing and control to ensure the concept of ‘from the farm to the fork’ work well with the food safety. Since its beginning, CODEX has plays a major roles in establishing and promoting the foundation of Food Safety in industry. The introduction of Hazard Analysis & Critical Control Point (HACCP) and Good Manufacturing Practices (GMP) has given a huge impact in changing the trends of food safety implementation throughout the industry. Since that, the introduction of more completed and structured Food Safety Management System (FSMS) by International Organization for Standardization (ISO) and Global Food Safety Initiative (GFSI) has becoming a global trend. The demand from consumer and the need of export requires compliance justifying the needs and importance of organization to be certified with required FSMS. This program is highlighting the needs and importance of FSMS, with a brief introduction of global trends in food industry and the most demanded FSMS in the country and world.
