

WEBINAR

“HOW TO BECOME A SUCCESSFUL PROJECT MANAGER?”

CPD Hours : 2

Ref No: IEM20/HQ/084/T(w),

SYNOPSIS

The Challenge

Are you an ‘Accidental Project Manager’?

2020 Pulse of the Profession published by Project Management Institute (PMI) revealed that 11.4 % of every dollar is wasted due to poor project performance-that is $114 Million for every $1 Billion invested. Besides financial loss, poorly managed projects often fail to achieve the desired objective causing frustration to end-users.

Considering many projects are managed by ‘Accidental Project Managers’, the above-mentioned failure should not be a big surprise. Accidental Project Managers are not formally trained and certified as Project Managers. Professional qualifications including IR, may not equip project managers with relevant competencies especially in the area of cost management, contract management, and managing human factors in projects.

As a project manager, would you like to be able to deliver successful projects more often and more consistently? This is certainly advantageous for your career and the reputation of your organization. Unfortunately, there are not many of us who can say we are consistently successful – we usually do deliver something good and useful in the end but how often do we have to spend more money or take longer to do so?

The Solution

Everyone can benefit from a structured approach to project delivery, with clearly defined roles, structured lifecycle, and supporting processes. This talk is designed for aspiring project managers and experienced project managers. Our key topics are:

Characteristics of a Professional Project Manager.

How to acquire and demonstrate competency of a Professional Project Manager?

The Outcome

Project management competency will enhance your credibility and competency to be an effective project manager. This will certainly improve your ability to deliver a successful project with less stress and more control.
