

Physical Talk on The Role of Engineers in the Development of the Palm Oil Milling Industry in a Palm Oil Estate Plantation Organisation

Date : 16 May 2026 (Saturday)

Time : 9.30 am - 11.30 am

Venue : Auditorium Malakoff, Wisma IEM

BEM APPROVED CPD: 2.0 HOURS

REF NO: IEM26/HQ/095/T

Registration fee:

- Student Member: Free
- IEM Member: RM15.00
- Non-Member: RM70.00

Synopsis

The talk will present the contribution of various engineering disciplines (Agriculture, Civil, Chemical, Electrical and Mechanical) in the development of Palm Oil Milling Industry in a Palm Oil Plantation Estate Organisation setting that have become one of the pillars of Malaysia economy.

Speaker : Ir. Yong Yoke Choon

Ir. Yong Yoke Choon, a Chemical Engineering graduate from the Royal Melbourne Institute of Technology (1978), has over 29 years of extensive experience in engineering and senior management. He started his career with 9 years as Process Engineer at Golden Hope Plantation Bhd, followed by 4 years as General Manager (Project) at Taiko Management Bhd and 5 years as General Manager at Toprank Corporation Sdn. Bhd. He later joined BASF-Petronas Sdn. Bhd., serving 5 years as Wastewater/Utility Manager and 6 years as Senior Plant Manager (MAn), leading large-scale operations, project management, and utility systems with proven technical and leadership expertise.