SYNOPSIS

SAS Security Academy 2026 is Honeywell’s specialized learning program for security consultants, system designers, distributors, system integrators, and end users. Focused on Malaysia’s emerging verticals—including data centres, healthcare, manufacturing, transportation, and critical infrastructure—the academy provides practical insights into security trends, system architecture, integration best practices, and future-ready technologies.

Through expert-led sessions, live demonstrations, and real-world application scenarios, participants will explore Honeywell’s security portfolio, including Honeywell Pro-Watch®, LenelS2 OnGuard®, MAXPRO®, NetBox, Milestone, and advanced Honeywell video surveillance solutions. Attendees will gain the knowledge and confidence to design, specify, and deliver scalable, integrated security systems tailored to diverse customer requirements while maximizing performance, efficiency, and operational value.

Learn. Design. Specify. Deliver.

MR. SUKRON

Mr. Sukron – Field Application Engineer | Security Systems Expert

Mr. Sukron is an experienced Security Systems Expert with over 21 years of expertise in electronic and physical security systems. He has strong hands-on experience in system design, implementation, and integration across a wide range of projects and industries. Since joining Honeywell in May 2013, Sukron has been part of the Building Automation division, where he supports partners and customers with technical consulting and solution design for integrated security systems. At the SAS Security Academy, Sukron brings practical knowledge and real-world insights to help participants better understand and apply Honeywell's security solutions effectively.

MR. MARIZALDY DEL RIO

Marizaldy del Rio – Field Application Engineer | Security Systems Expert

Mar is an experienced, result-driven Security Systems application engineer with over 15 years of experience in electronic security systems solution. He has proficiency in security systems design, implementation, and systems integration, bridging technical engineering with customer needs across a wide range of projects and industries. Since joining Honeywell in January 2025, Mar has been part of the Building Automation division, where he supports partners and customers with technical consulting and solution design for integrated security systems. At the SAS Security Academy, Mar brings practical knowledge and real-world insights to help participants better understand and apply Honeywell's security solutions effectively.
